Dear Friend,

Follow these opportunities:

Join Upwardly Global and contribute to making a tangible impact on the lives of professional immigrants and their families. Upwardly Global is currently offering the Society member, providing ongoing support to immigrant and refugee job seekers this summer with a monthly gift

Last year, we achieved a huge milestone in the organization's history: over 10,000 job seekers in 2025.

When Mandy, a Health and Safety Specialist from Trinidad and Tobago, moved to the U.S. in 2021 to be with her husband, she was constantly told she would need to start from the bottom. And not only was she looking to find a job that matched her experience and credentials — she was looking for affordable and accessible childcare.

"Everybody was telling me you've got to start from the bottom." When Mandy moved to the U.S. to be with her husband, she was told she would need to start from the bottom and not only was she looking to find a job that matched her experience and credentials, but she was also looking for affordable and accessible childcare. "Everybody was telling me you've got to start from the bottom."

For newcomers who have overcome obstacles to find employment, and asylees into the future. With this support, Upwardly Global aims to serve 25,000 newcomer communities to rebuild and thrive in the United States.

The Women's Economic Power (WEP) initiative is an investment in workforce inclusion and will accelerate our mission of dismantling employment barriers for immigrants, refugees, and other vulnerable workers. By supporting the WEP, you ensure more newcomers are connected to career services, donors, you ensure more newcomers are connected to career services, and asylees into the future. With this support, Upwardly Global aims to serve 25,000 newcomer communities to rebuild and thrive in the United States.

Visit the new WEP microsite to learn more.

Upwardly Global was recently featured in the Hospice News article "Medical Licensing Laws Could Affect Hospice Workforce, Diversity & State" magazine's 2024 Power of Diversity: Asian 100 list. As you know, visibility is crucial for driving meaningful change, and I

As we conclude Asian American and Pacific Islander (AAPI) Heritage Month, I am proud to announce the launch of our Women's Economic Power (WEP) initiative. Recognizing the unique challenges immigrant women face toward economic empowerment, Upwardly Global launched the WEP initiative, which examines the intersection of gender, immigration, and race and aims to support immigrant women in overcoming the systemic and gendered barriers that prevent them from reentering or remaining in their careers.

As we conclude Asian American and Pacific Islander (AAPI) Heritage Month, I am proud to announce the launch of our Women's Economic Power (WEP) initiative. Recognizing the unique challenges immigrant women face toward economic empowerment, Upwardly Global launched the WEP initiative, which examines the intersection of gender, immigration, and race and aims to support immigrant women in overcoming the systemic and gendered barriers that prevent them from reentering or remaining in their careers.

Upwardly Global is a leading organization that empowers immigrants and refugees to access economic opportunities by dismantling employment barriers, re-skilling, and re-entering the workforce. Our programs specifically target the needs of women, who experience unique workplace challenges that prevent them from reentering or remaining in their careers. Our programs are designed to help women gain critical skills, overcome systemic obstacles, and navigate the world of work. We are committed to empowering women to reach their full potential and contribute to their new communities, support their families, and help build a more inclusive and resilient U.S. economy.

Last year, we achieved a huge milestone in the organization's history: over 10,000 job seekers in 2025.

And in 2023 alone, we helped support over 1,000 newcomers into skill-aligned roles with an average salary gain of $50,600.

To support Upwardly Global's mission, visit the new WEP microsite to learn more or donate today.

Jina Krause-Vilmar

Upwardly Global

Dear Friend,

Through the WEP initiative, we examine the intersection of gender, immigration, and race and aim to support immigrant women in overcoming the systemic and gendered barriers that prevent them from reentering or remaining in their careers.

As we conclude Asian American and Pacific Islander (AAPI) Heritage Month, I am proud to announce the launch of our Women's Economic Power (WEP) initiative. Recognizing the unique challenges immigrant women face toward economic empowerment, Upwardly Global launched the WEP initiative, which examines the intersection of gender, immigration, and race and aims to support immigrant women in overcoming the systemic and gendered barriers that prevent them from reentering or remaining in their careers.

We are proud to announce the launch of our Women's Economic Power (WEP) initiative. Recognizing the unique challenges immigrant women face toward economic empowerment, Upwardly Global launched the WEP initiative, which examines the intersection of gender, immigration, and race and aims to support immigrant women in overcoming the systemic and gendered barriers that prevent them from reentering or remaining in their careers.

Upwardly Global is a leading organization that empowers immigrants and refugees to access economic opportunities by dismantling employment barriers, re-skilling, and re-entering the workforce. Our programs specifically target the needs of women, who experience unique workplace challenges that prevent them from reentering or remaining in their careers. Our programs are designed to help women gain critical skills, overcome systemic obstacles, and navigate the world of work. We are committed to empowering women to reach their full potential and contribute to their new communities, support their families, and help build a more inclusive and resilient U.S. economy.

Last year, we achieved a huge milestone in the organization's history: over 10,000 job seekers in 2025.

And in 2023 alone, we helped support over 1,000 newcomers into skill-aligned roles with an average salary gain of $50,600.

To support Upwardly Global's mission, visit the new WEP microsite to learn more or donate today.

Jina Krause-Vilmar

Upwardly Global

Visit the new WEP microsite to learn more.